

The erosion of the Constitution, the anti-American indoctrination happening throughout our schools, the divisiveness tearing the country apart, the government monitoring our conversations and tracking our every move, Islamic extremism, globalization. Are these events that are coincidentally happening at the same or could they all be related? Have We The People lost all of our powers and rights? Are the President and Congress really in charge, or are even they controlled by and beholden to more powerful, outside sources? Is the American dream dead and if it is, can it be revived?

For information on William Panzarella's other books visit WilliamPanzarella.com